Dear Parent or Guardian,

Each year the Tennessee Department of Education examines schools' performance across several different indicators to provide an overall look at how schools are serving the needs of all students. The department of education included the following indicators in its analysis of school accountability:

- Student achievement
- Student growth
- English learner proficiency exam (ELPA)
- Chronic absenteeism

More information on each of these indicators and the data used to define them can be found in the 2022-2023 Accountability Protocol. Under the federal Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), the department is required to use the school accountability results to identify those schools with the lowest performance across student groups (e.g., individual racial/ethnic student groups, students with disabilities, economically disadvantaged, and English learners). These schools will receive additional support from the department.

We are writing to inform you that Ridgeway Middle School is identified for ATSI (Additional Targeted Support and Improvement) as required by ESSA and the U.S. Department of Education during the 2024-25 school year.

Our school is working hard with the district and the Tennessee Department of Education to increase student performance by targeted tutoring, continuous professional development of our teachers, interventions, department collaborations, standards-aligned curriculums, and technology individualized instruction. We encourage you to help by participating in the development and implementation of our school improvement plan, signing your child up for tutoring, reading and doing math with your students daily, discussing the importance of academic growth, and working with your child's teachers to monitor progress.

Sincerely,

Katrina Raggs-Washington
Principal
