Teacher:	Unit:
----------	-------

Purpose: The Unit Preparation Guide provides a structure that encourages teachers to think through and internalize the unit expectations. This guide only needs to be completed one time before the beginning of each unit.

Step 1: Unit Orientation	Step 2: Discuss the texts
Read the Unit Overview Preview the Texts: Whole Group/Small Group/ Independent Learning	What is the relationship between the texts?
Step 3: Understand the Big Picture	Step 4: Understand the Task and Standard(s) Alignment
What is the topic of the Unit?	What is the key learning for the whole group and small group performance tasks as they relate to the standards?
Step 5: Understand how Students Show Mastery

Review the Performance-Based Assessment at the end of the unit. Identify key “look fors” that will indicate student mastery as you prepare to review student responses.

What is the key learning for the Performance-Based Assessment?

3. Based on the objectives, what will students know and be able to do after the lesson?	Learning Target: SWBAT analyze a short story as they study vocabulary and complete a series of tasks, write a timed essay and work with a peer to improve the quality of their essay. Students also have time to work on their timelines	Learning Target: SWBAT Evaluate the main claims in a nonfiction text.	Learning Target: SWBAT Determine the author's style in "Immortal Cells, Enduring Issues." Cite textual evidence to support our analysis of the author's style choices.	Learning Target: SWBAT Analyze how an image can support an author's central idea Role-play a conference as curators of photographs revealing the central ideas in the anchor text.	Learning Target: SWBAT Gather relevant information from multiple sources to write and publish a reflection on our findings.
4. What are the most important aspects of this text and how are questions focused on them? Note the "Must Ask" questions that are crucial to the goal of communicating the essential understandings of the text and standard(s). These questions should represent part of your "Checks for Understanding" during the lesson.	What claims are presented? What does the author want to persuade the audience to believe? 5. Note the areas in which students will face challenges or may have misconceptions. Note how you might respond.	The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks examines several themes: classism, ethics, globalization morality, racism, sexism, technology and, human suffering . Students will be challenged to discuss these topics, peer reviewed research, scientific data, and present findings. 6. What is your literacy-based focusing activity? How does this focusing activity connect to the previous or current lesson?	Students engage in reading a short story, a poem, an informational article and viewing photographs to enhance critical thinking to speak and write about complex topics. 8. Note the questions you could ask within the lesson to probe students' answers and to ensure they are being precise with the evidence they are using.	How would you compare and contrast the two sisters? How is one sister's lifestyle in conflict with her mother's legacy?	How does the poem describe sacrifices women have made to secure rights, freedoms, and opportunities they had never experienced.	What should patients be asked to consent to if the fruits of the research are unpredictable? Should they be compensated if, years or decades later, institutions, scientists, or drug companies benefit financially? Should each and every subsequent or conceivable use of human tissue require a separate consent from patients or their families? How do we protect patient privacy in such situations? Is protecting privacy essential if it slows down the progress made for science?	How does the photographer develop ideas through photographs and captions? 9. What will serve as your literacybased closing activity to demonstrate mastery of the lesson objective?	Compose an Objective Analysis.	Compose an Objective Analysis.	Compose an Objective Analysis.	Compose an Objective Analysis.	Compose an Objective Analysis.
10. What data about student learning do I want to collect during this lesson? When and how will I check on progress or gather this data?	Check-ins occur to determine: Do students use textual vocabulary? Can students summarize key points? Can students use textual claims to present an individual interpretation?
