PRINCETON SUMMER JOURNALISM PROGRAM

The Princeton Summer Journalism Program recently opened the application for its 2021 program. The free, seven-week intensive journalism and college preparatory institute is open to high school juniors and seniors from low-income backgrounds. Programming includes lectures and workshops by professional journalists and Princeton professors, weekly discussion groups, seminars on the college admissions process, and test prep sessions. After the program, students will work with a volunteer college adviser, a professional journalist or program alum, to complete their college applications.

Additional information about the eligibility requirements, application process, and program details are available in the attached flyer and at <https://psjp.princeton.edu/>. If you would like to nominate a student, please do so here. The deadline is February 22, 2021.

Air Force ROTC Scholarships

The deadline for qualifying students to apply for Air Force ROTC Scholarships is 11:59 p.m. January 14, 2021. There are several types of scholarships available

Organize Virtual Blood Drives.

The scholarship opportunity below is available for graduating seniors who organize virtual blood drives. More details are available at www.vitalant.org/scholarship

Please help me spread the news...Vitalant, formerly LifeBlood, is offering scholarships this year for up to $1000 per student. But the deadline is February 28, 2021. Thus, there's a sense of urgency to get the word out. Perhaps you have a way to help spread the word through family and friends, co-workers, schools and/or school groups, youth organizations, faith communities, businesses, nonprofits, and social media. Personally, I'd love to see us award at least 50 scholarships...however, the truth is...there is no limit to the number we can award.

The students do, however, have to "earn" the scholarship. Below are some highlights, and I'm attaching the full scholarship guidelines...or those interested can visit vitalant.org/scholarship.

Eligibility and Highlights

- Student leaders from high schools, colleges and trade schools. They need to be enrolled in or have been accepted to a post-secondary certificate or degree program within the U.S.
- For high school students they must be a graduating senior...and the leadership they demonstrate with their virtual blood drive may also help them on their community service status at school.
- Scholarships are non-transferable and this one-time scholarship program is not associated with other Vitalant scholarship programs or promotions.
- They must register at vitalant.org/scholarship, where they can learn more about the rules, including how they will be expected to organize a virtual blood drive.
- The more credits they earn through their blood drive, the more scholarship dollars they earn, up to $1000.
- Students earn 3 credits for a donation of convalescent plasma, 2 credits for power red, platelets and plasma and 1 credit for whole blood.
- Local Vitalant Donor Recruitment Representatives will be available to provide guidance to students who register, but they must register on the website.
- Scholarships are paid to the institution not to the individual.

Increasing Donors for Memphis

- The number one thing Vitalant wants to accomplish to ensure our community has a safe and sustainable blood supply is rebuilding our base of people willing to donate blood.
 - Since 30% of our local blood donations come from high school and college students, this is a terrific way for Vitalant to thank students who organize blood drives and create turnout.
 - Remember, 1 donation can save up to 3 lives.
